

Sam Rabone - Dame Trott

Sam is best known for starring at the regular stalwart for the past few years in the now infamous Garrick Panto. Last year (much like this year) was totally different for him. Maybe it was playing a man (Buttons in Cinderella) that set the feng shui of 2020 off? He's not taking full responsibility, but it's a possibility.

He is thrilled to be back though, and even happier to be back in a dress.

Max Fulham - Jack Trott

Max's love of entertaining was sparked performing made up shows to anyone who would stand still for long enough - family, friends and even neighbours! Since then he has been hooked on all things comedy, magic & ventriloquism!

Max has just appeared on the brand-new series of Crackerjack for CBBC. This is Max's first time at the Lichfield Garrick and he's delighted to be joined by his best friend, Gordon, the talking monkey!

Victoria McCabe - Jackie Trott

Victoria trained at London Studio Centre and graduated with a BA (Hons) in Theatre Dance. She's starred in several pantomimes over the past few years as well as several UK theatre tours, but this is her first time at the Lichfield Garrick.

Victoria is delighted to be playing the role of Jackie in Lichfield this year and would like to wish everyone a very Happy Christmas!

Lorraine Brown - Fairy Sugarsnap

Lorraine is flying into the #GarrickPanto this year as Fairy Sugarsnap! She's delighted to be joining the cast this year as she's local to Lichfield and loves everything about pantomime.

Lorraine is a highly polished solo performer and has a dazzling career in Stage, TV and recording, including the role of the lead female vocalist in That'll Be the Day. You may also recognise this local legend from her winning appearance on Pot of Gold, hosted by Des O'Connor as well as a performance on Ant & Dec's Saturday Night Takeaway, where she performed with her former award-winning girl group, Romany Way.

Tim Hudson - Flesh Creep

After four years with the RSC Tim starred as Toad in The Wind in the Willows at the Old Vic and on tour.

Veteran of twenty pantomimes, Tim appeared with Torvill & Dean at Bristol Hippodrome, in the last of five consecutive Cinderellas, playing either Baron Hardup or one of his ugly stepdaughters. He received a big hand on his Twankey in Aladdin at Maidstone, but is thrilled to have reverted to the Dark Side to play Flesh Creep this Christmas!

MAKING A DIFFERENCE THIS CHRISTMAS

A huge thank you to the partners, supporters and funders of this year's Bite-Sized Panto

Visiting the pantomime at Christmas is a festive tradition for many families, but not everyone is able to attend by their own means.

Thank you to the following businesses for their support by sponsoring a family ticket, so a disadvantaged family who may be experiencing bereavement, illness, or trauma can attend the panto.
